

Name _____

Date _____

Conjunctions: Combining Sentences

Sentences can be combined with the word and.

If the two sentences have the same subject, you can combine the predicates.

Example: Mary rides her bike. Mary sings a song.

Mary rides her bike and sings a song.

If the two sentences have the same predicates, you can combine the subjects.

Example: Max loves to watch TV. Sam loves to watch TV.

Max and Sam love to watch TV.

Instructions: Combine the two sentences into one with the word and.

1. Doug wants the remote control. Justin wants the remote control.

_____

2. Shawn works hard. Shawn plays hard.

_____

3. Patrick is very smart. Patrick knows a lot of facts.

_____

4. Jessica loves to read books. Michelle loves to read books.

_____

5. The turtle looked at the sky. The bear looked at the sky.

_____

6. The fox is quick. The fox is clever.

_____

7. Joseph is shy. Joseph is quiet.

_____

Name _____

Date _____

Conjunctions: Combining Sentences – ANSWER KEY

Sentences can be combined with the word and.

If the two sentences have the same subject, you can combine the predicates.

Example: Mary rides her bike. Mary sings a song.

Mary rides her bike and sings a song.

If the two sentences have the same predicates, you can combine the subjects.

Example: Max loves to watch TV. Sam loves to watch TV.

Max and Sam love to watch TV.

Instructions: Combine the two sentences into one with the word and.

1. Doug wants the remote control. Justin wants the remote control.

___ Doug and Justin want the remote. _____

2. Shawn works hard. Shawn plays hard.

___ Shawn works hard and plays hard. _____

3. Patrick is very smart. Patrick knows a lot of facts.

___ Patrick is very smart and knows a lot of facts. _____

4. Jessica loves to read books. Michelle loves to read books.

___ Jessica and Michelle love to read books. _____

5. The turtle looked at the sky. The bear looked at the sky.

___ The turtle and the bear looked at the sky. _____

6. The fox is quick. The fox is clever.

___ The fox is quick and clever. _____

7. Joseph is shy. Joseph is quiet.

___ Joseph is shy and quiet. _____