Gratitude Notebook

- 1) Mrs. Looney will read Giving Thanks: A Native American Good Morning Message written by Chief Jake Swamp.
- 2) When and why do we celebrate Thanksgiving?
- 3) Do we need to wait for the fourth Thursday in November to be grateful?
- 4) Research shows, that the more we recognize things in our life that we are grateful for, the more we will be at peace.
- 5) What could our Gratitude Notebook look like? What is included in our Gratitude Notebooks? What are the expectations?
- 6) Discuss our themes of the year.
- 7) At school we will be using our Writing and Social Studies Notebook for Gratitude.
- 8) Do you have a journal or notebook at home? If you do have a journal or notebook, you might want to use that as a Gratitude Notebook for home. Or, you can create your own Gratitude Notebook.
- 9) If you do not have a journal or notebook at home, can you create one? Do you have computer paper, loose-leaf, or construction paper? What about a paper bag that you can cut into the shape that you wish? If you can, staple the pages together.

- 10) You might enjoy decorating the cover of your Gratitude Notebook. If you have paper at home, decorate or draw a picture on the paper and glue the paper to the cover of your Gratitude Notebook. You can be creative and use paint and glitter. How about cutting out pictures from magazines and gluing them onto your cover?
- 11) Be sure your name is on the cover. Be sure you give your notebook a title. Perhaps "Gratitude Notebook." Maybe "I Give Thanks." You decide on a title.
- 12) Be sure to write the date on the top of each new gratitude list.
- 13) Write as many ideas and concepts that you are grateful for. You may use bullets as we do in class, or you may write in complete sentences- whichever you prefer.
- 14) Do you have a bell or chime of some sort at home? How about using a glass and tapping it lightly with a spoon? Try experimenting with putting different levels of water in the glass and see what different sounds it makes. Try to ring the bell or chime or glass before you start writing in your Gratitude Notebook. And ring it again when you are finished, just as we usually do in class.
- 15) You can even create a Gratitude Poster. Take a large piece of paper or cloth and write different things that you are grateful for on the poster. We will be adding our ideas to the outside bulletinboard.
- 16) Definetely practice your breathing. How many deep breathes can you take during a sitting?
- 17) Remember the reasons why we practice breathing? It helps us to be calm when we are feeling overwhelmed, and helps us to feel better when we already feel great. It is great for our mental and physical health. If it is good enough for the United States Navy, then it is good enough for me!

- 18) Check out the Navy Seal Breathing Practices found below.
- 19) Research shows that the more you recognize what you are grateful for, the more successful, content, and at peace you will be.
- 20) This is a habit that is proven to enhance many parts of your life, throughout your life.
- 21) Here are some other ideas:
- a. What about finding some smooth rocks and painting some words of things that you are grateful for on the rocks?
 - b. Is there a way to write on leaves?
 - c. Try drawing a collage of pictures of things that you are grateful for.
 - d. Interview as many people as you can asking them what they are grateful for. Share your ideas with them.
 - e. Create a collage of words of things you are grateful for.
 - f. There are several Gratitude apps found on your devices.
