Directions: Evaluating the Four Basic Principles of Jainism.
--

- 1) Evaluate the importance of each of the four principles. Which principle is most valuable to you?
- 2) Sort the Four Basic Principles into an order of importance and value.
- 3) Number the note-cards in order of importance and priority.
- 4) Identify which principle is the most important to you by putting a star on the note-card.
- 5) Begin brainstorming reasons why the chosen principle is most important to you.
- 6) On the note-card, create a list of at least four reasons why this principle is most important to you.
- 8) Pick one of the basic principles of Jainism that you feel is the hardest to follow. Label that note-card as "Hardest to follow."
- 9) Create a list of as many reasons as possible of why this principle is hardest to follow.
