DIRECTIONS:
Evaluating
the Four Basic Principles of Jainism

- 1) Read pages 157-158 in the social studies textbook.
- 2) As you are reading, evaluate the importance of each of the four principles of Jainism. Which principle is most valuable to you?
- 3) Write each of the four basic principles on a separate index card.
- 4) Sort the four basic principles into an order of importance and value.
- 5) Number the note-cards in order of importance and priority.

- 6) After watching the videos about Jainism, identify which principle is the most important to you by putting a star on the note-card.
- 7) Begin brainstorming reasons why the chosen principle is most important to you.
- 8) On the note-card, create a list of at least four reasons why this principle is most important to you.
- 9) Pick one of the basic principles of Jainism that you feel is the hardest to follow. Label that note-card as "Hardest to Follow."
- 10) Create a list of as many reasons as possible of why this principle is hardest to follow.
- 11) Be prepared to share your ideas and reasoning with the class during Circle Time.
