Buddha's Four Noble Truths and Eightfold Path
--

- Reread pages 136-139. Use the information from these pages to include factual information in the assessments below.
- Complete Assessments #1, #2, and #3.
- All three assignments are due: _____
- Assessment #1: On loose-leaf, students will describe six of the eight steps in the Eightfold Path. Students will give examples of how they might possibly live out these values (or hope to live out these values) in their own life. Each paragraph should explain one of the steps and then describe how they could live out these values. Therefore, you will have at least six paragraphs.
- Assessment #2: On loose-leaf, students will inform the reader about their opinion of Four Noble Truths. Students will also pick one of the Noble Truths and write about how it relates to their own values. This essay should have at least five paragraphs. Students will also choose two of the steps in the Eightfold Path that they want to work on in their life.
- Assessment #3: On computer paper, students will either draw a t-chart or write a few paragraphs to show the similarities and differences of Hinduism and Buddhism.
