Egypt Tri-orama Project Directions

- Students will create a tri-orama that will reflect three key topics of the Egyptian culture.
- A tri-orama is a pyramid made out of four sides of triangular paper that will look like a pyramid when it is attached all together.
- On each side of the tri-orama, you will construct a well-written response that explains the Egyptian lifestyle.

- Choose at least three topics from the list below. Feel free to group some of the similar topics.
- The subject areas you may choose from include:
  - social class system
  - daily home life
  - recreation
  - clothing
  - art
  - music
  - key geographic features
  - animals
  - natural resources
  - food
  - literature
  - writing system
  - architecture
  - religious beliefs in eternal life
  - mummies
  - pyramids
• Spend time collecting information on pages 82-113 in your textbook.
• Write about three paragraphs for each of your three topics. You will have at least nine paragraphs in total. The paragraphs will be typed. You will transfer these paragraphs onto the triangular paper to create your tri-orama.
• Your tri-orama will reflect the most important information on your topic in a creative way. You will also include drawings and symbols.
• Be sure the outside of your tri-orama has your name and a title.

• You will be graded on neatness, completeness, grammar, spelling and accuracy of information.
• Use your textbook, classroom notes, and GRAPES Organizer as a resource.
• Be sure to cite where you found your quotes.
